

The Company

Access Devices is focussing its activities to provide innovative medical devices that help improve the quality of life of Cancer patients in India. Access Devices is the sole distributor in India for high technology organisations across the world, who are committed to providing state-of-the art products at affordable prices for cancer patients. Access Devices operates through a network of distributors located in all major cities of India with the corporate office in Bangalore.

Mission

To improve the quality of life of Cancer patients in India.

Products

The company is focussed in the area of oncology with a wide range of products used in the treatment of cancer.

- Radiofrequency Ablation System: Radiofrequency Ablation System is used for treating soft tissue tumors in liver, lung, bone and kidney.
- Irreversible Electroporation System (IRE): Nanoknife IRE system is used for treating tumors which is non-resectable due to location, size, near critical structures.
- Microwave Ablation System: Solero Microwave Ablation System is used to treat soft tissue tumors in liver, lung and kidney in quick and effective manner.
- Cryoablation System: Cryoablation system is used to treat tumors in liver, lung, kidney prostate and bone. The technology can be used in breast and pain management.
- Paxman Scalp Cooling System: Scalp Cooling System is used in cancer patients receiving cytotoxic chemotherapy to minimise hair loss.
- Long term venous access devices: Disticath Port and Port Access Infusion sets are used for safe administration of chemotherapy drugs.

Please visit www.accessdevices.in for more information.